HEADLINE CPI: The CPI calculates the cost to purchase a fixed basket of goods as a way of determining how much inflation is occurring in the broad economy. The CPI uses a base year and indexes current year prices based on the base year's values.

CORE CPI: The headline figure is not adjusted for seasonality or for the often volatile elements of food and energy prices, which are removed in the Core CPI.

MARKET REPORT

Mag 7's weakness is starting to become a problem for Wall Street

One notable group has been absent from the 2026 stock rally: the American tech giants that have charged a nearly four-year bull run. The Magnificent Seven Index, which includes companies like Nvidia Corp, Alphabet and Amazon.com has gone nowhere this year, even as the artificial-intelligence boom it's bankrolling continued to propel other technology names. The group as a whole has trailed 300 stocks in the S&P 500 Index this year, including relative minnows like Dollar Tree Inc. and Hubbell.
